

“Organize the whole state, so that every (Republican) can be brought to the polls, divide the county into small districts, and appointing each a subcommittee, make a perfect list of all the voters and ascertain with certainty for whom they will vote, keep a constant watch on doubtful voters, and have them talked to by those in whom they have the most confidence, and on election days see that every (Republican) is brought to the polls.”

-Abraham Lincoln